 The Conex Building

Arts and Handicraft: Performance

Complete Merit Badges Earned:
 - Public Speaking

Partial Merit Badges Earned:
 - Theater
 - Music

This program uses skills from each day to build up to larger/more technical projects by the end of the week. Please communicate to Scouts and Leaders that missing class/arriving late will make it difficult for staff to accommodate program.

Scouts will discover and learn what it takes to master the art of performance and find techniques that help them to communicate as leaders, followers and artists.

"Communication focuses on how people use messages to generate meanings within and across various contexts, cultures, channels, and media. The field of communication promotes the effective and ethical practice of human communication."

This Merit Badge Group teaches:

- Why so many people communicate through art and how it's so important
- The composing of feelings and ideas and ways to relay them to others
- Tools and tricks for a successful public presentation
- How to lead a group of people in a performance
- How live performances shape and define our culture through history
- The careers and hobbies of performance art

Maximum number of participants: 12

C.A.W.N.S: Friendly Fishing

Complete Merit Badges Earned:

- Fly Fishing

Partial Merit Badges Earned:

More than just a pass-time, fishing connects us with the wildlife with which we share our planet.

Enjoying this hobby while maintaining the proper balance and the dynamics that go with it requires attention and respect for the water. We use this stewardship tool to help minimize or eradicate the possibility of extinction of not only marine life, but of any given species.

While this activity is relaxing and fun, it can become a technical sport or even necessary for living off the land.

"Every Scout ought to be able to fish in order to get food for himself. A tenderfoot [beginner] who starved on the bank of a river full of fish would look very silly, yet it might happen to one who had never learned to catch fish."

While earning the Environmental Science merit badge, Scouts will get a taste of what it is like to be an environmental scientist, making observations and carrying out experiments to investigate the natural world and determining the next steps in our Human Impact. How do we manage the land with ecology in mind? Here Scouts will find out! Some activities vary for age appropriateness

Conservation is the duty of every person.

Scouts will explore the remarkable complexity of our relationship with nature. Learn the tools and possibilities of a career in conservation and opportunities for volunteering.

Some highlights are:

- leaving a legacy through one of our many active conservation worksites
- Exclusive tool demonstrations: Sledge Hammers, Chainsaws and Backhoes
- A unique and rare Patch signifying the work and dedication of a Conservationist
- opportunities to learn about and complete some requirements for the National Outdoor Award and Distinguished Service Conservation Award
- The technical knowledge of Trail building and Service project planning (great for Eagle Scout preparations)

Living History: A walk through time

Have you ever read a science fiction novel about time travel? Time travel is impossible, of course, but you can experience the next best thing through living history. You can find living history presentations at museums, historic sites, heritage centers, schools, and many other locations. NOW you can find Living History at Wehinahpay!

Through the use of clothing styles, pastimes, skills, foods, cooking, music, and handicrafts, our interpreters of living history give a sense of everyday life as it was lived during the period they represent.

The Living history interpreters in this area will seek to demonstrate cultures, including military life, farming, village life, fur trading, and commerce, from the very mountain range our camp is in!

Each day will provide a new experience, with exclusive activities you can only access when registered!

Dragoon History: Black Powder Shooting, Historical Uniforms, Hard Tack Biscuits, Code Cracking

Wrangler and Homestead History: Chicken Dodgeball, Cowboy stories, Fluffy Biscuits and Jam!

Mountain Man History: Knife Making, Tomahawk Throwing, Archery, Fur Trading, Beaver Meat?!

This program area is 14+

Under 14 program is offered during Program Wander

Maximum number of participants: 15

Prerequisites: NOTE: there are no merit badges earned during this class period.

Partial Merit Badges

- Disabilities Awareness

- Public Health

Look around at the Scouts in your unit, the members of your sports teams, and the kids in your class - you will see that each person has their own personalities, distinct interests and ideas, different physical features, and different strengths and needs.

The field of public health deals with maintaining and monitoring the health of communities, and with the detection, cure, and prevention of health risks and diseases. Although public health is generally seen as a community-oriented service, it actually starts with the individual. From a single individual to the family unit to the smallest isolated rural town to the worldwide global community, one person can influence the health of many.

"Discussion" requirements will be either with a counselor and another individual (in accordance with Youth Protection Guidelines <https://www.scouting.org/health-and-safety/gss/gss01/>), or with your counselor and a small group (of Scouts), depending upon your preference.

A nation is a patchwork of communities that differ from each other and may be governed differently. But regardless of how local communities differ, they all have one point in common: In the United States, local government means self-government. Good citizens help to make decisions about their community through their elected local officials.

As Scouts fulfill the requirements for this merit badge, they will learn how to become active citizens are aware of and grateful for their liberties and rights, to participate in their governments and protect their freedom, helping to defend their country and standing up for individual rights on behalf of all its citizens.

Scouts who earn the Citizenship in the World merit badge will discover that they are already citizens of the world. How good a world citizen each person is depends on his willingness to understand and appreciate the values, traditions, and concerns of people in other countries.

Scout Skills: Intro to the Outdoors

Camping is one of the best-known methods of the Scouting movement. When he founded the Scouting movement in the early 1900s, Robert Baden-Powell encouraged every Scout to learn the art of living out-of-doors. He believed a young person able to take care of himself while camping would have the confidence to meet life's other challenges, too.

First aid - caring for injured or ill persons until they can receive professional medical care - is an important skill for every Scout. With some knowledge of first aid, a Scout can provide immediate care and help to someone who is hurt or who becomes ill. First aid can help prevent infection and serious loss of blood. It could even save a limb or a life.

Hiking is a terrific way to keep your body and mind in top shape, both now and for a lifetime. Walking packs power into your legs and makes your heart and lungs healthy and strong. Exploring the outdoors challenges you with discoveries and new ideas. Your senses will improve as you use your eyes and ears to gather information along the way.

Scout Skills: Intro to the Outdoors

Camping is one of the best-known methods of the Scouting movement. When he founded the Scouting movement in the early 1900s, Robert Baden-Powell encouraged every Scout to learn the art of living out-of-doors. He believed a young person able to take care of himself while camping would have the confidence to meet life's other challenges, too.

First aid - caring for injured or ill persons until they can receive professional medical care - is an important skill for every Scout. With some knowledge of first aid, a Scout can provide immediate care and help to someone who is hurt or who becomes ill. First aid can help prevent infection and serious loss of blood. In learning about inventing, robotics and space exploration, Scouts study how their favorite genre of entertainment could be a future career.

Space is mysterious. Each time we send explorers into space, we learn something we didn't know before. We discover a little more of what is there. Scouts will come to understand the things we already know about the stars and the many methods of learning what we don't.

Houston we've got a problem! Scouts will have to learn how robots function in the field to aid us in our mission, including how they move (actuators), sense the environment (sensors), and how robots understand what to do (programming); inventing a tool to solve a problem in zero gravity? Now that's something for the books!

Automotive Maintenance

Modern automobiles are important to many aspects of American life. Those who service automobiles must understand each principle, and how these principles interact to provide smooth, efficient performance. Owners of cars also benefit by understanding how their vehicles operate. This enables them to understand why certain periodic maintenance is required to keep their vehicles in tip-top shape.

Basketry

Basketry is a handy skill for a Scout. A basket can be a sturdy companion on campouts, carrying clothes snugly and efficiently, holding potatoes and corn for roasting over a campfire, or carrying the day's fishing catch back to camp for dinner. Baskets and basket-weaving projects also make great gifts for family and friends.

Prerequisites: Adding this to an individual's registration helps us prepare for materials needed each week. As we offer this every day in our Crafts Center during Program Wander, Scouts may come in multiple days, stay for a full afternoon or finish a partial from before! Its flexible and paced individually per scout.

Fish and Wildlife Management

Wildlife management is the science and art of managing the wildlife - both animals and fish - with which we share our planet. Maintaining the proper balance and the dynamics that go with it requires humankind's attention. We use this stewardship tool to help minimize or eradicate the possibility of extinction of any given species. We want our descendants to have the opportunity to experience the same animal diversity that we now enjoy.
